Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Houses We Live Carpenters Journey Club Travels is a series of industrial readers on food, clothing, and shelter, designed for the use of pupils in the lower grades of the elementary schools. The children organize a Journey Club for the purpose of making trips to various parts of the world to find out about the foods they eat, the clothes they wear, and the houses they live in. They make their own investigations, and their personal observations are reported to the Club. These are supplemented by a Museum which they create with the samples of raw materials and finished products collected on their travels. The Houses We Live In treats of the experiences of the Journey Club members as they learn about the materials used in building their homes. During their travels, the children keep before them the motto they have chosen, to find out ; and they absorb the principles of the production of their food, clothing, and shelter, and the manners and customs of their own land in the past, and of...
